Intended Audience:

The intended audience for this conference includes primary care physicians and specialists in intensive care medicine, pulmonary medicine, and hospitalists. Mid-level providers, residents, fellows, advanced practice nurses, and other physicians with an educational need or interest in this topic may also attend.

Overall Learner Objectives:

Understand both the practical and theoretical benefits of using point-of-care ultrasound for the hospitalized patient. This will be accomplished through didactic, hands-on, and pathology review sessions. After the course, the learner will have an understanding of the literature supporting bedside ultrasound and the ability to perform bedside ultrasound to improve the care of their patients.

Accreditation/Designation/Disclosure:

The Cooper Health System is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The Cooper Health System takes responsibility for the content, quality, and scientific integrity of this CME activity.

The Cooper Health System designates this live activity for a maximum of 5.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ per session. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 5.5 MOC points per session in the American Board of Internal Medicine's (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider's responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

Successful completion of one hour of a continuing medical education (CME) course recognized by the American Medical Association, the American Osteopathic Association, or the American Podiatric Medical Association is equal to one hour of continuing education for New Jersey nursing license renewal (New Jersey Board of Nursing 13:37-5.3).

All faculty participating in continuing medical education activities sponsored by The Cooper Health System are expected to disclose to the audience any real or apparent conflict of interest related to the content of their presentation.

Refund Policy: Your conference registration fee will be refunded (minus a $50 processing charge) if we receive notification of your cancellation no later than May 22, 2017. No exceptions.

Please Note: If you are unable to attend after registering, please contact us as soon as possible at (856) 382-6480.

Cancellation Policy: The Cooper Health System reserves the right to cancel this conference due to insufficient enrollment or other unforeseen circumstances.
