

NURSING GRAD PROGRAMS

Do You Really Need It? This Will Help You Decide!

Wound Ostomy Continence Certification

The Rutgers School of Nursing–Camden Wound Ostomy Continence Nursing Education Program (WOCNEP) prepares highly skilled nurses who care for vulnerable patients across multiple healthcare settings such as home care, assisted living, and long-term care. Certification in the in-demand specialty of WOC nursing can transform your career. Rutgers is the only tri-specialty WOC program offering 13 graduate credits in the USA.

School Nurse Certificate and MSN Degree

The Rutgers School of Nursing–Camden School Nurse Specialty Program prepares registered nurses to fill the important role of a school nurse in K-12 educational institutions across New Jersey, to advance the academic success of their students, and to contribute to the well-being of families and communities. Our graduate program offers a school nurse certificate alone or as a pathway toward the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) with a specialty in school nursing.

Post-Masters Nurse Educator Certificate

Certification in any field is a mark of professionalism. For academic nurse educators, it establishes nursing education as a specialty area of practice and creates a means for faculty to demonstrate their expertise in this role (NLN, 2022). This one-year hybrid online post-master's certificate program will prepare master's or doctoral degree nurses with advanced knowledge and skills to teach in the classroom, clinical and online settings in all levels of nursing education.
