Critical Care Tech Paid Internship Program

Cooper University Health Care, Camden County College, and Impact Charity Services, Inc., partner to offer Cooper team members the opportunity to be part of this Critical Care Tech Internship program here at Cooper.

Start Date: Tuesday, September 3, 2024 • End Date: Thursday, December 12, 2024

30 classroom and semi lab training sessions, 13 hours/week of training, 6.5 hours of training on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 3:30 p.m. — 10 p.m.

Your attendance at these training sessions is extremely important. Entry into this program is your commitment to attending these 30 training sessions. A stipend will be provided midway through the training and at completion of the training, which will be based on attendance.

To be eligible for consideration, you must...

- Apply to requisition #19796 by Friday, July 26, 2024.
- Be in your current role or employed at Cooper for a minimum of 1 year.
- Be eligible to transfer on completion of this internship program.
- Be under no active discipline.
- Have a high school diploma or GED. You must provide proof to HR Recruitment within 24 hours of applying.
- Provide two letters of recommendation at the time you apply online; one letter of recommendation must be from your current Cooper manager.
- Be able to successfully fulfill your current work schedule and complete the required 187 didactic hours and additional clinical hours of our internship program.

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS!

You will be required to sign a Critical Care Tech Internship Program Agreement.
Note: This program is currently available to 10-13 participants.

Cooper University Health Care

Your IMPACT. Your LEGACY. IMPACT CHARITY SERVICES

CAMDEN COUNTY COLLEGE